ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS REWARD.

RAN AWAY on he evening of the 7th inst. a Bright Mulatio Asan named BOB,

Who calls lamself ROBERT THOMES;

About 5 feet 10 inches high, 24 or 25 years of age, has large black eye brows, large mit cyes, not very dark and is a stou well made handsome fellow. His hair is lick, but not quite straight, and he wears it nicely trimmed, combed and ridged on the top. Hi beard appears very black it suffered to groufor a day er two, but he usually shaves it ver closely. He has recently received an injury of he fore finger of the left hand, and has it bond up, and may probably lose the first joint ole. He speaks deliberately, and is more corbit in conversation than persons of his color usally are. He walks slowly, is a very good walk & delights particularly in attending to hors? He has a variety of cloaths, and took wit him one dark green broadcloth coat and pantaloons with yellow buttons, one cloth coat and ity, and will be sold very low pantoloous nearly of the same color, but the cloth of inferior quality, with white metal buttons, one blue cloth cost much worn, one old brown surtout coat with covered buttons, a good hat, and a pair of black top boots. The rest of his apparel I am not able particularly to describe. He is fond of wearing boots, and pays great attention to his dress.

As he can read and write very well, he may probably produce a forged authority for him to pass, or procure the certificate of some one of the negroes, who, a few years ago. petitioned by the name of Thomas and obtained their freedom in Maryland. If taken out of the state of Maryland and district of Columbia, and secured in any jail, so that I get him again, the above reward will be given, or sixty dollars if taken and secured within the said state or district; all reasonable expences will also be paid if he should be delivered to me in the city of Washington, or to Dr. Richard Duckett, in Prince Gorge's county, Maryland. He is well acquainted in annapolis, Baltimore, Geo. Town, and the city of Waskington.

LETTER OF THE HOW SENATOR ADAMS.

We cannot refrain from suggesting to the honorable Senator, the impropriety of those harsh terms which he has applied to a foreign nation. It is of some importsace to the character of our country, and perhaps to her interest, that those who are charged with the conduct of our affairs (in relation to other powers) should not violate established principles of decorum. Men who have a proper score of personal dig. Dity will avoid indecency for their own sakes. Other men ought to avoid it from a sense of duty. We entreat the honora ble senator to reflect on what he feels at the perusal of any thing which has been said or written injurious to the interest or character of his own country. If he should be taken for the mouth piece of his friends (whom we heartily congratulate on their acquisition) may it not be concluded that the rulers of America are hostile to Eng land? He has cited what happened at Co. perbageo. The reason assigned by the British ministers, for bombarding that city was a conviction that Denmark would soon be numbered among their loes, which made it their duty to deprive her of the means of annuyance. If a similar conviction be produced respecting America, and a similar result should follow, it would be but a poor consolation to the victims of bostility that it had been provoked by the style of the honorable John Q. Adams. A publication of that sort, without a name, would be a thing of little consequence, because it is easy for the servants of a great monarch to despise anonymous slander : we should be sorry that contempt were st, his confidence in the government, pledging his character on their assur. ance; secondly, their confidence in him, skewn by the communication of what was by no means unnecessary. The world withheld from others: not merely from (unjustly no doubt) had characterized him tederalists, but from old and approve democrats, who spoke and voted again the measures proposed, on the group of those French declarations which MA. dams denies. From these we conclions it results further, that the opinion he has promulgated, and the feelings bhas ex. pressed, are in very truth the opions and feelings of the American connet. But that his doctrines as well as he sentiments are adverse to England, at favorable to France, no man can doubtwho reads his publication. Hence En and may fairly infer that the American councils are hostile to her, and partiako her enemy. We submir to the honosble Senator's consideration, however, he little circumstance. Is he sure that in his business he has not been duped? If it should turn out that the Frenchemperor has made substantially the declarations so positively denied, will he say that his new friends took advantage of bis eagerness to bask in the sunshine of their smiles, and gave him assurances, which, like the language of Macheth's witches, though true to the ear were false to the sense? Will he acknowledge that, Desorted by his own vanity, he committed himself fully on a half confidence? This would give him a life rent of ridicule. Will he, to avoid the imputation of being gulled, declare that knowing the truth be septendicted the words only and not the substance, of threats ascribed to France? If he does, he puts a brand on his fore, ead which so balm of pity can afface. I has thee, he stands between the world and lefferson. The candor of the former is proverbiel: the truth and honor of the latter we shall say oothing about ; but we desire it may be remembered that the hop. John Q. Adams (a senator from the state uf Massachusetts) has made the declarasion above cited. And now we proceed to consider his arguments. The first in order, as well as in place, is the respect due by the decisions made, after due deliberation, by their representalives in Congress. The embargo, he tells us " was discussed in the Senate of the United States, and, as far as the constitutional authority of that bidy extended, there it was decided." But we are informed, on authority which cannot be disputed, that the bill laying at embargo was read a first, a second, and a hird time, and passed in the senate in four hours; and that a little time was repeatedly requested, to consider and obtain information, but it was denied. We ask then what Mr. Adams meant by telling his fellow citizens the embargo was discussed in the senare, and is equiled to their respect and obedience, because it had obtained a like concurrence of the other branch, and the ap pribation of the president? Let any min acquainted with the forces of public busness, estimate the time required for the so veral readings of the bill, the votes take on each reading, and that necessarily cut sumed in asking repeatedly for a little de lay, and then see how much will be left for discussion. The president recommendi a measure (which we believe to be uncon, sinusional) fraught with danger, and in urious to a great proportion of the people, The senate burry it through all the founs established to prevent the evils of predpi tate resolutions, in the short space of thur hours; the house of representatives concur in the same , rash and rapid, manner; after which the president (his edict being thus enregistered) gives to his obsequious servants the god of approbation. And this semblance, this shadow of a law; this un. constitutional dester, his contraband ware of legislation, amuggled through the public offices without opening the package of a single sentence, without examining a thread in the tex ure; this foreign, prohibited commodity, so produced, so introduced,/ and so displayed, is recommended to Ire men as commanding their respect. H dare you, Mr. Adams, declare, in the ry teeth of truth, that the bill was di asa. ed in the Senate? Under what letext will you defend your verseif t W speak not of candor : It is an appele y entirely useless to your new friends, the it might have been prudent to Atrid Ait, if any have been prudent to fired all, it any had faller to your learn, how will you recentile your service with the fact? Will you preven ed and disciplined to the majority, mars fugle man, is a discussion? The heartedness he has always prethe , the charity with which he has inunsuspecting confidence. We are /ackful for the information; which was as jealous, suspicious, irritable; one of those " who are never as hearts ease when they behold a greater than themselves." But he must know best what passes in his bosom, and therefore we shall not listen to the slanders of an envious world. Let him however, be careful that he do not invalidate his declarations, and furnish evi-

HALIFAX. (Nova Scotia) May 20.

Yesterday being the day appointed by proclamation, the legislative assembly convened for the dispatch of business.

A little after two o'clock, P. M. bis excellency the lieutenant governor proceeded to the council chamber; where being seated, a message was sent, requiring the attendance of the representative body. The speaker and members of the house attended accordingly; when his excellency was pleased to deliver the following speech :--Mr. President, and

Gentlemen of the Council: Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Assembly: His majesty having been graciously pleased to appoint me to the government of this important establishment; my duty, as well as my inclination will ever deeply interest me in its prosperity and happiness. in addressing you for the first time, I embrace the opportunity it affords me, of detailing his majesy's paternal solicitude for the security of his province of Nova Scotia.

In addition to the formidable reinforcement of select troops, with ample supplies of through which the carriage passed to the warlike stores, which have been landed on your shores, our gracious sovereign has commanded a considerable supply of arms, accoutrements, clothing and camp equipage, to be sent out for the equipment and accommedation of the militia forces of this province.

After enumerating these marks of the king's benevolent consideration, I am persuaded you will perceive the propriety of giving immediate attention to the revision and amendment of the militia laws; and will adopt such measures as will co-operate with his majesty's views; and tend to the permanent strength and security of the province, in its present critical situation; and that his majesty's loyal subjects in Nova-Scotia, will evince a ready disposition justly to appreciate the exertions which are made for their preservation, and will display in their own defence, the courage, energy and patriotism of British subjects.

Mr. Speaker, and

Gentlemen of the Assembly: Aware as you must be from long experience, that expences must necessarily be incurred to support the civil establishment, and the honor of his majesty's crown, I rely on your wisdom and public spirit for granting such supplies as circumstances and the exigences of affairs may require.

Gentlemen of the Council, and Gentlemen of the Assembly:

Accustomed as I have been, from my early youth, to a military life, I will endeavor to supply my want of knowlege and experience in discharging the duties of the civil authority, by diligence, and a strict attention to the general interests of the colony.

I shall hope, at all times for your able counsel and assistance; and ready as you will ever find me to listen, with the most careful attention, I confidently trust that, by our joint endeavors, my administration of the government will prove honorable to myself and beneficial the colony.

If, at any time, contrary to my wishes, I should uffortunately err, it will. Gentlemen, be an dror of judgement and not of the heart. And although I am unused to make professons, I will give you the honest assurance a Soldier, that I shall constantly endeay to act with the strictest justice and equit towards every individual.

Respect and Gratitude.

SALEM, May 27.

We have seldom wireessed a scene of perity of agriculture and commercemore rational gratification, than that of I ueeday last, in rendering to an old and venerable patriot a public tribute of respect and grantude It is the fashion of the times to calumniate our public benefactors. Colonel Pickering has been more particularly singled out as a mark for the destroyers of lame and character, and the arrows have been dipped in the most ma lignant po son. While his life has beende. voted to the service of his country, he has had to stem a torrest of the most cruel o bloquy, and repreach, provoked by those steady Roman virtues which have buoyed him up in the arduous struggle. Drawn from his native town and state by the calls of his country, in the early part of our revolutionary war, he bas of late returned to spead the evening of his life among his ascient friends. They affectionately welcome him into their society: and at this crisis of danger, when the country has need of the services of its best patriots. and they of an open countenance and sup port against the aiream of persecution that would bear them down, the opportunity which has presented itself of paying that respect to colonel Pickering has been at once an indulgence of the generous affictions of the heart, and a service in the common cause of the country.

The handsome manner in which colonel Pickering was introduced into town on Tuesday, comported with the respectful scatiments which gave rise to the entertainment. Two gentlemen of the committee of arrangements were deputed to pro ceed in a carriage to his seat in Wenham. and accompany him to Salem. In the mean time upwards of 120 young gentlemen of this and the neighboring towes, desirous of contributing to the public ma. nifestations of respect, assembled on horse. back, and being formed into regular of det, under the direction of main bean & Mr. Fairfield as marshaus, and accompa-nied by a namour of carriages, took a content through Danvers and Upper Beverly, and met the colonel near the Weaham line, whence they escorted him in a very gallant style into Salem. The houses and streets were crowded with grateful specta. tors; the vessels in Beverly harbor dis played their flags in compliment to the ve teran; and as his carriage arrived at the draw of Essex bridge, a salute was fired from a ship at a few yards distance in the stream. The cavalcade passing on thro' thousands of spectators on the front reach. ing general Derby's, the escort opened and faced inwards, forming an extensive line general's door, where the colonel alighted and was welcomed with a favorite air from an excellent band of music, and met be the committee of arrangements and a large number of gendemen to receive him. Af ter some time spent in mu.ual congra:ula tions, in this delightful mansion, the cor pany proceeded to Concert Hall, where most elegant and sumptuous dinner el prepared in a superior style, of which. wards of 150 persons partook; Hereth's illustrious guest was seated umidst mr of those who had been the gay companion of his youth, and were now the stead friends of his age. Here he was surrour ed also by young men, who had learned from their fathers the history and characte of the man they honored. Among the guests, were the honorable Jesish Quin cy, M c. several of the Essex senators reverend clergy, &c. The honorable Me Goodhue presided at table; and the bon Messrs. Derby, Pickman and Prescott act ed as vice presidents. Fancy was amuse in the tasteful arrangement and decoration of the tables; the appetite was gratific with the choicest viands; but it was th pleasing occasion that gave them their tru zest-it was indeed the feast of reason, and the flow of federatism. The scotiment which animated the company are expressed in the toasts which were given. The lo lowing were from the chair:

WR. SNOWDEN,

I HAVE heard with pleasure that a numer of gentlemen have agreed to establish a falent Shot Manufactory in town. I have no bould and sincerely hope they will find it pro-

It would be a happy thing if some one would propose an establishment, that would give emdyment to the poor, particularly to women ind children, of the latter there are vast numbers about your streets in the high road to run - By being employed in a well regulated manufactory they would not only be useful to hemselves and the community, but would be saved from destruction and become good members of society.

Manufacturing establishments are now mak-8 in Pennsylvania, Maryland, and at Peters urgh, and there has been a respectable meetg for the purpose in Richmond, the proceedas of which, and the report of the commitwhen made, you will do well to publish your paper.

The Prices Current .- From the Virgi-Herald, published at Fredericksburg, we arn, that the best flour may be purchased tre at the ruinous and almost unprecedent-Price of THREE DOLLARS PER BARREL.

This intelligence we conceive to be both aportant and interesting-Important, belise it proves to demonstration that this faembargo—this experiment that is drawing the very life's blood of the body politic, is Woperating as a most burthensome and unqual tax upon the yeomanry of the country 15 relaxing the sinews of the government, and lebilitating every part of the political Mem-Interesting, because it will certaininduce a discussion amongst the people of dany very momentous questions ___ It will se the people to enquire, whether the preent is so wise and impartial an administratihether its imbecility has not reduced us to rient several months before she will be al.

our present distressed and degraded situation. and whether those men who have pledged themselves to adhere to the policy by which Mr. Jefferson has been guided, ought to be elevated to the most dignified offices in the country by their free suffrages.

We wish the men of the nation by no means to forget, that our present rulers will feel themselves bound if they respect their word or have any regard for consistency, to persevere in supporting the ineffectual and disastrous system, that is now operating upon, not a small portion, but every part of our extensive country—from Georgia to Maine from the Atlantic to the lakes. We wish them also to remember, that the federalists have opposed this Embargo from the first moment that it was proposed—that some of the most illustrious statesmen of the community have opposed it with all their eloquence, and brought against it all their influence—that they have entreated our perverse rulers to abandon their heedless cause, and open once more the ten thousand channels through which the fruits of our honest industry were borne into the depots of other nations. Let them also bear in mind, that we have supplicated in vain for an emancipation from commercial and agricultural restriction, and that the people have expostulated without being heard with that reverence which is due from those whom they have covered with hohors -honors which they have proved themselves unable to sustain, and of which, it is both hoped and believed, they will soon be [Washington rederalist. despoiled.

Proposals are issued in Baltimore by John E. Hall, Esq. for publishing by subscription, the American Law Journal.—He proposes printing about four numbers in each year, which will form an octavo volume of 400 pages, at a rate not exceeding one cent per

To the gentlemen of the bar this is a work of utility. A Law Journal was established in London in 1803, which has been productive of benefit not only to the proprietor, but to the community at large. The frequent recurrence of publication, enabled the Editors to give the earliest intelligence of new and important decisions or points in which the commercial world was deeply interested :while the "immunities of invisibility," offered a fair opportunity to professional gentlemen to prosecute their researches by anonymous communications. The first law characters in Great Britain entered the lists of controversy in that field, while those of less knowledge have silently gazed and acquired experience from the contest.

Mr. H. proposes publishing his Journal upon the same plan, and we hope he may meet with suitable encouragement.

THE NEXT PRESIDENT .- The de. mocratic editors have already begun the electioneering campaign for the next pre sideat. They have taken sides against each other, and now come out in their papers with all the rancor of civil discord. We anticipate the developement of much truth in the discussions respecting the can. didates; more, perhaps, than is generally allowed to come from the democratic presses. Whether the rival candidates will gain any honor from the tru he which may be promulgaed, is, however, doub fut Each partizan holds up his favorite as the saver of the country, at least, if not of the universe. For my part I see no difference between one democratic and another; be tween Chaton, Madison and Maproc. I we are to be ruled by Bonaparte, through the aid of democracy, it is of no coase, quence through whose hands his imperial majesty delivers his decrees. The recom. mendation of Clinton or Madison alters not the decree, nor the effects of it.

The Osage NOT in England.—By ac. counts from England, as late as the middle of April, we find that the Osage had not then arrived there. Why she should stay so long to France is a mystery. Some have conjectured that Bonaparte has "ordered that she shall remain sequestered until a decision may be had thereon, ac. cording to the dispositions which shall have been expressed by the government of the U. S." But this conjecture we think an improbable one. Bonaparte is not yet prepared for such an outrage; he knows the spirit of the people of this country better, unless he has been sadly deceived by his spies. The most probable conjecture is that the commander of the Osage had instructions to wait for the "decision" of his "imperial majesty," on the dispositions expressed by our government, in the dispatches sent by that ship. His imperial majeary has much business on his hands, and could not be expected to be in a hurry about deciding the fate of so small a frac. as they have been led to suppose by the tion of his empire as the U. Since the arrival of general Miranda, a ood deal has been said on the subject of invading the Province of Carracas. Mr. Depon's description of that country has been referred to in support of the arguments for this enterprize. Owing to the height of the mountain, the climate is said to be much more salubrious than that of the island in the same latitude; the soil is considered extremely fertile, and the minde of the inhabitants strongly averse to the monopolizing desputism of the mother country. After the experience we have had at Beunos Ayres, no reflecting person will advise our attempting to make a conquest of a Spanish settlement; and the point recommended, therefore is to eman. cipate, The principal question in this case is, in what state of civilization are the inhabitants of that country? Are they fit ed to preserve and enjoy liberty? If they are not, it is doub ful whether they will benefit much by the change; but if they are, (and it is confidently stated they are su) there can be no question of their pros pering more under an independent govern ment than with the present system. The chief regret would in that case be, that the a tempt had not been made long ago, as a measure of that kind, undertaken at present, could scarcely fail to prolong the

Sir Hercules Langrishe, the friend of Burke, in his admirable speech on improv. ing the representation in palliament, thus splendidly illustrates the madness of inno vation in government, and the absurdity of setting a ide the wisdom of ages, in fa wor of the folly of a day. "I prefer the oak that has taken deep root in your land, that has stood the shocks of time, the succession of seasons and the changes of the heavens, to the weeds of the field, which are the growth of the day, the production of the wilderness, and the promise of desolation."

[London pap.

If the multitude were to govern, says the same sharer in the mantle of Burke, it would, in the first instance, be the government of ignorance over wisdom, and of violence over order: in the end, the people themselves would be enslaved. The fact is the people, like the dominion of female beauty, does not long survive the moment of their being corrupted. They are flattered until they are seduced, and when they are seduced the seducer becomes the tyrapt. You will find the truth of this position not only in the legends of love, but in the history of every democracy, or popular insurrection that ever existed; you may read it in the destiny of that country, in which (as an able writer expressed) "suspicion fills their prisons, and massacre is their gool delivery."

From a late English paper. One John Wyson, a young man, a journey neyman carpenter, was condemned to suffer in the year 1758, for being active in a riot, but received his majesy's most gracious pardon the evening previous to the day appointed for his execution; upon which he expresed the grateful acknowledgment of his heart upon the important occasion, in the following

And live I yet, by power divine! And have I still my course to run? Again brought back, in its decline, The shadow of my parting sun! Wand'ring I ask, is this the breast, Struggling so late with grief and pain, The eyes which upwards look'd for rest, And dropp'd their weary lids again. The recent horrors still appear ! Oh! may they never cease to awe! Still be the king of terrors near. Whom late in all his pomp I saw. Torture and grief prepar'd his way,

And pointed to a yawning tomb; Darkness behind eclips'd the day, And check'd my forward hopes to come But now the dreadful storm is o'er; Ended at last the doubtful strife; And living I the hand adore,

Can sinful dust and ashes give ! I only live my sins to mourn, To thee my God I only live. To thee, benign and sacred power! I consecrate my lengthen'd days; While mark'd with blessings every hour Shall speak thy co-extended praise.

of the Patent and Fa repared by the late Rich for near eight years past aghout the United States a o unequalled.

telfihia, August 9, 1800.

desirous to make public for the good thers, the excellent quality of HAMIL-ON'S ELIXIR, prepared by the late Mr. Lee, I have sent you the following account of the benefit I have received from it, which I hope will induce others to give it a trial. In consequence of a bruise on the breast received from a fall, my health grew bad, my breathing became very difficult, and frequently I have had suddenly to rise up in my bed with all the horrors of immediate suffocation. Add to these a constant pain in my breast and a cough, a great loss of strength and flesh, and you may conceive that my symptoms evidently indicated an approaching consumption. The advice of a most eminent physician was resorted to, and afterwards a second was called in, without giving me any relief. Another physician who knew me and the circumstances of my case, advised me to give Hamilton's Elixir a trial, saying he had used it in his practice, and always found it do much good. A bottle was procured from Mr. Birch's, and I found relief before I had takien one half of it. I continued to use It and was soon strong enough to attend to business. On taking cold, same of my former symptoms return, but are always removed by a ose or two of the clinin.

GEO. BENNER, jun. No. 11, Budd-street, Philadelphia From Luther Martin, Esq. late Attorney General of the State of Maryland,

I comply with your request in stating my opinion of Hamilton's Elixir. It has been used in my family for two or three years past, with uniform success, whenever colds, coughs, or similar complaints, have rendered medicine necessary I have myself found it an excellent and agreeable remedy for a very painful and troublesome affection of the breast, accompanied with soreness, and with obstructed and | well known in America, being of the first condifficult breathing.

On these accounts I do not hesitate to recommend Hamilton's Elixir as a valuable medicine, and deserving public attention.

LUTHER MARTIN. HAMILTON'S ELIXIR

Is recommended as the best remedy for coughs, colds, asthmas, hooping-cough, approaching consumptions, and most disorders of the breast and lungs. This preparation will prove a valuable acquisition to public speakers who may be subject to temporary hoarseness, thickness of speeck, &c. In long confirmed Asthmatic complaints where a cure can speedily be expected, this medicine affords immediute relief, moderating the fits of coughing, and rendering their recurrence less frequent. On children afficted with the hooping cough, the like beneficial effects may confidently be expected.

ITCH CURED.

By once using Lee's Sovereign Ointment, which, although used for 20 years in Europe and for near 8 years in America, has never been known to fail in any one instance. It is perfectly innocent, warranted not to contain a particle or mercury of any pernicious ingredi ent, and may be used with perfect safety on an infant, being a vegetable preparation and entirely free from he offensive smell which attends most other remedies.

HAMILTON'S LOZENGES,

Which have cured more children and adults of disorders proceeding from woams, than all the medicines heretofore discovered. In addition to the great cures mentioned in the letters from the chanceller of the state of Maryland, the Rev. Mr. Molthier and others, lately published the following are submitted to the public; being selected for the purpose of s. awing the mild yet powerul qualities of this extraordinary medicine, which, although so mild in its operation, is competent to expel the formidable tape worm.

An infant, aged 5 weeks, of Mr. Henry Ewbank, taylor, Charles-street, Baltimore, was plaint was entirely removed, and he is new re dangerously afflicted with convulsion fits, so that his life was despaired of, but was perfectly cured by one dose of Hamilton's Worm Lozenges, which expelled several worms, the undoubted cause of the child's disorder.

Letter from Mr. Ackerman, bricklayer, Magazine street, near Broadway, Jan. 24, 1802.

It would be ungrateful were I to withhold my testimony in favorof Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges. I had been between five and six years past much indisposed, and latterly often tormented with severe griping and pains in the bowels, troubled with offensive breath, with violent feverish fits, and other obvious symptoms of worms; but frequently hearing your Worm Lozenges recommended in cases similar to mine, I determined on s trial of them, as my last resource. The first dose evacuated twelve or 13 feet of a tape worm; two other doses were taken, which brought away a quantity of matter broken like skins and pieces of worms. I suppose the tape worm, voided at different times, must in the whole have exceeded forty feet. The almost incredible benefit I received from this medicine, induced me to give a dose to a child of mine who was pining and sigaly: it produced the same good effect in this instance expelling a worm of a different kind, from nine to twelve inches long, and at the same time restoring a good state of health.

HENRY ACKERMAN.

ALSO,

The following new and valuable Medicine, just received and for sale as above.

(Price, Two Dollars per bottle.) Dr. Tiffot's celebrated Gout and Rheumatic Drops.

NOTHING is of more importance han the preservation of health—this common lacep remark however is too often forgotten, whilst we are active and strong-and prevention of pain, which is superior to its cure, is not sufficiently attended to by any description of persons. Among those disorders which require the most early and unremitting efforts to eradicate and overcome, none have a strong er claim upon our notice than the Gout, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Weakness of the Joints, Sprains, Gleets, the Stone and Gravel, the Cramp and every species of Rheumatic Pains from whatever cause they may have originated and hence every relief which can be administered is too valuable to be forgetten .--Those persons whose avocations peculiarly expose them to colds, &c. cannot be too anxious lways to possess immediate aid. Sea laring persons, travellers, &c. ought constantly to carry with them that medicine which will counteract the unpleasans effects of their perilous duties, and especially those pains to which their situation must expose them. To those who reside in or visit the West-Indies, and ther warm climates, theywill be found upon Robert T. Hooe & Co. trial to convey the most lasting service, and January 30.

will gradually destroy all tendency to disease in the human frame, and preserve health and vigor. Although a great variety of prescriptions have been published to care the disorders enumerated above, none has yet equalled the GOUT AND RHEUMATIC DROPS of Dr. TISSOT, which are celebrated throughout the European continent, and whose un . FRENCH AND ENGLISH STUDENT bounded benefits are fully authenticated by certificates already published of gentlemen so sequence in the state of Maryland: General Charles Ridgely, of Hampton; John Gibson, Esq. one of the directors of the Farmers' Bank of Maryland; John Macubbin, Esq. Certificate of Mr. Thomas Kelso, butcher. About three weeks since I was mast violently attacked with Rheumatic pains throughout my whole frame, in so severe a manner as not to be able to turn in my bed without assistance, droceeding as I suppose from a severe cold; uo being advised by a friend to apply Dr. Tissot's Cout and Rheumatic Drops, I accordingly obtained from the agents Messrs. George Dobbin and Murphy, two bottles, the application of which, under God, have perfectly restered me to health. I am therefore induced with confidence to recommend this medicine as a certain cure for the above disorder.

THOMAS KELSO.

Baltimore, July 22d, 1806. Certificate of Mr. Thomas Campbell, Harnessmaker

It would be an act of injustice to withhold my testimony of the salutary effects of Doctor Tissot's Gout and Rheumatic Drops, as I have experienced a very unequivocal instance of their virtues and efficacy. I was afflicted with two severe attacks of what is usually called Dead Palsy, from which I partially recovered, but was obliged to use crutches to aid me in walking when I lest home; to this were joined violent Rheumatic pains, the result of the affliction, and I had feared the disorder would! accompany me through life; but providentialy ly was recommended to apply at George Dobbin and Murphy's for Dr. Tissot's Dreps, and after using only one bottle, found myself perfectly liberated from my disorder, and am now, thank God, as free from pain as if I never had been afflicted. Finding this modicine operate so powerfully on myself, I determined to apply it internally to my child, a boy only eleven
